...they make many people Shia. In one place, when that Husayni ethos (Husayniyat) reaches there, an organization like Hezbollah is formed, and it stands against the oppressor. In another place too, when the Husayni ethos reaches, the revolution of Iran comes about. In one place, when the Husayni ethos reaches, what happens? They say, "No, we only have to shed tears for Husayn; we only want intercession from Husayn; we only have to [offer condolences to] Lady Zahra with our tears." All these things are correct, but that spirit, the purpose of Husayn, has been taken out from within it.

And we will go from Jannat al-Baqi toward Najaf, and then from Najaf we will reach Karbala, row upon row, and from Karbala we will go toward al-Quds, and we will wipe Zionism from the face of the earth. We will go from Jannat al-Baqi to al-Quds. And there was a goal that Khomeini set: it was achieved, Iraq was won, Karbala was freed. And the goal of al-Quds, too, is Khomeini's, indeed it is Khomeini's gift; we will free our first qibla (the first direction of prayer). We will go from Jannat al-Baqi to al-Quds. We will widen the circle from Najaf to Karbala, indeed we will widen it; we will go from Jannat al-Baqi to al-Quds. And all the devils together kept thinking hard; on every front, at every time, the leader (rahbar) stood firm. The House of Saud is taking its last gasp, and this time we will celebrate Ghadir in the house of God.

The guy who's from the khawas, who understands, is trying to talk gently to the alam, explain to the alam. He's like, "Right now we're in a struggle. When you say the name of Imam Khomeini, this is jihad." He said, "Once we win, we'll say three salawats every time we hear the Prophet's name. God sent this highly esteemed leader in this twentieth century: Agha Khomeini, who is seated on his prayer mat, yet is such a source of power that both the West was afraid and the East was afraid. He who sits alone on his prayer mat is not afraid; it is the powers of the world that are afraid. And look: he was put in prison but did not retreat from his position. He was exiled and sent to Turkey but did not retreat from his position. Expelled from Turkey, he went to live in Najaf but did not retreat from his position. Expelled from Najaf, he went to Paris but did not retreat from his position. This is strength of character.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION

I remember hearing from the Leader, may Allah preserve him, who was talking to the people. He said, "I don't have any sense of tafarru' (tafarrun, acting like Pharaoh, arrogance) that I feel better than you, I'm higher than you." He's the leader of the world, everybody praises him. He's a leader, people ready to die for him... [He says: "Just before, three to four days before Imam Khomeini was supposed to come back to Iran, we were sitting with the most senior brothers. We were getting ready for the Imam to return, doing our responsibilities. I said, 'Look, people are going to be coming. From tomorrow we have to divide up responsibilities. We have to organize the affairs of the Imam's house. We have to run his office. We have to have a meeting.' Everybody agreed. We came and sat down in the meeting talking."] You know what the Leader volunteered to do? He said, "I'll be the chai guy. I'll serve chai for the Imam."
